

Rocket® KCH™ Catheter - fully available

Dear Customer,

We have been advised that misinformation has recently been circulating in the global market concerning the availability of the Rocket® KCH™ Catheter.

The source of this misinformation has not been conclusively identified but is believed to have originated from a competitive commercial source in the Netherlands.

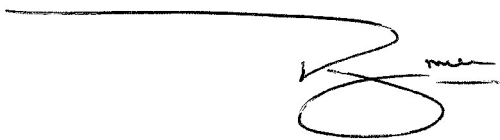

The Rocket® KCH™ Catheter is and remains fully available.

The product may be obtained either direct from the UK, or from our international sales offices in Australia, Canada (via the Health Canada 'Special Access Programme'), Germany, Netherlands, New Zealand, USA and from our distribution partners worldwide.

Please see our website: www.rocketmedical.com for full details.

Originally developed by Rocket Medical, we have proudly manufactured the Rocket® KCH™ Catheter for over 25 years and are fully committed to maintaining the global supply of this unique device for the immediate and foreseeable future.

For and on behalf of Rocket Medical plc.
